Summer session is underway; please take time to review the information regarding GRCC student rights and responsibilities.

All students are held responsible to the Student Code of Conduct. Be sure to visit the GRCC student conduct page to familiarize yourself with the code. There are two very important student conduct sections which you should be aware of:

Drugs and Alcohol GRCC prohibits the use of alcohol and recreational drugs on campus. A copy of the College's Alcohol and Drug Policy can be found here. If you or someone you know is struggling with drug and alcohol abuse, assistance can be provided by contacting our Counseling and Career Center for an appointment and to locate resources.

Sexual Misconduct GRCC has a policy against Sexual Misconduct. This policy prohibits all forms of Sexual Harassment and Sexual Violence. For more information about how to define, report, and access to victim resources, please visit the link above.

Additional resources designed to support student well-being include:

Emergency Alert/Campus Police GRCC has an emergency alert system that will notify you by text and e-mail about closures or other emergencies. For a full list of services provided by Campus Police, click here.

Disability Support Students who need accommodations related to physical, mental, visual, or hearing impairments that may impact their academic experience, should call 616-234-4140 for information on how to register.

Ethics Monitoring The College has a confidential system to bring forward concerns about possible ethics violations. If you feel you have witnessed or are the victim of an ethics concern (such as harassment, discrimination, intimidation, etc.), please contact the ethics hotline at 616-234-3169 or, if the issue is with another student, contact the Student Life and Conduct Office at 616-234-3531. More information about our ethics policy is available here.
Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) GRCC protects student information in accordance with students’ FERPA rights. Details about your rights under FERPA are available here. If you have FERPA questions, contact the Registrar's Office or call 616-234-4121.

Any further questions about any of the policies discussed above can be directed to the Dean of Student Affairs Office at 616-234-3925, the Student Life and Conduct Office at 616-234-4161, or Campus Police at 616-234-4010. GRCC aims to provide each student a safe, secure, and successful college experience!
