IX. Definitions

Complaint – A complaint, for purposes of this policy, is an allegation of discrimination or harassment based on disability or an allegation of retaliation that stems from the filing of a complaint of discrimination or harassment. A complaint may be made by a student, staff member, faculty member, or by a member of the college community who feels that he or she has been discriminated against in contravention of this policy or retaliated against for filing a complaint or participating in an investigation related to this policy.

Disability – A physical or mental impairment or medical condition that substantially limits a major life activity, or has a history or record of such an impairment or medical condition. Major life activities include but are not limited to: seeing, hearing, eating, walking, standing, sitting, lifting, bending, speaking, breathing, learning, reading, concentrating, thinking, communicating, and performing manual tasks. Major life activities could also include the operation of major bodily functions such as: the immune system, skin, normal cell growth, bowel, bladder, neurological, circulatory, cardiovascular, endocrine, hemic (blood), lymphatic, and reproductive functions.

Essential Abilities and Technical Standards – Grand Rapids Community College faculty have identified essential abilities and technical standards critical to the success of students in their programs. Students must demonstrate these essential abilities to succeed in these programs of study. Qualified applicants are expected to meet all admission criteria and matriculating students are expected to meet all progression criteria, as well as these essential abilities and technical standards with or without reasonable accommodations. GRCC strives to be accessible and welcoming to students of all abilities. After reviewing the Essential Abilities and Technical Standards for the chosen program of study, it is each student’s responsibility to determine whether all associated coursework can be completed either with or without accommodation.

Students who are not able to demonstrate the essential abilities or who do not meet the technical standards of their chosen programs with accommodations or if reasonable accommodations do not exist will not be considered “otherwise qualified” for the program.

Essential Job Functions - The fundamental and primary duties of an employment position. A job function is essential if removing that function would fundamentally change the job.

Marginal or Non-essential Job Functions - Those duties essential to the work unit, but not to the position itself. The function must still be accomplished, but if it can be performed by another employee or position; it is a marginal function.

Qualified Individual with a Disability – An individual who, with or without reasonable accommodation, can perform the essential functions of the college course, academic program or employment position that such individual holds or desires.

X. Procedures
