III. Policy Statement

Grand Rapids Community College (GRCC) students are required to fulfill the graduation and academic program (major) requirements for the Catalog in place the semester they begin taking classes as degree-seeking students.

If students change their academic program (major), they must fulfill the graduation and academic program (major) requirements for the Catalog in place the semester in which the students made the change.

Students returning after an extended absence (greater than two years) from the College will be required to fulfill the graduation and academic program (major) requirements of the Catalog in place the semester they begin re-taking classes as a degree-seeking student.

Students may petition to fulfill the graduation and academic program (major) requirements of the Catalog in place the semester they intend to graduate instead of being governed by the above three guidelines.
